Principal, with staff, operates big business

Mr. Thomas Joe Lyerly
Principal

Mrs. Mary Beaver
School Secretary

As high school administrator, Mr. Lyerly assumes the responsibility of operating one of the big business establishments in Rowan County—East Rowan High School. The product is education. Aided by Mr. Phil Mauldin, assistant principal, Mr. Lyerly works to establish an atmosphere in which students may gain wisdom through knowledge.

Principal Joe Lyerly and Assistant Principal Phil Mauldin, those poor underpaid administrators, count the loot. (Sorry, it's not theirs; it's football gate receipts.)

Our Dedicatee

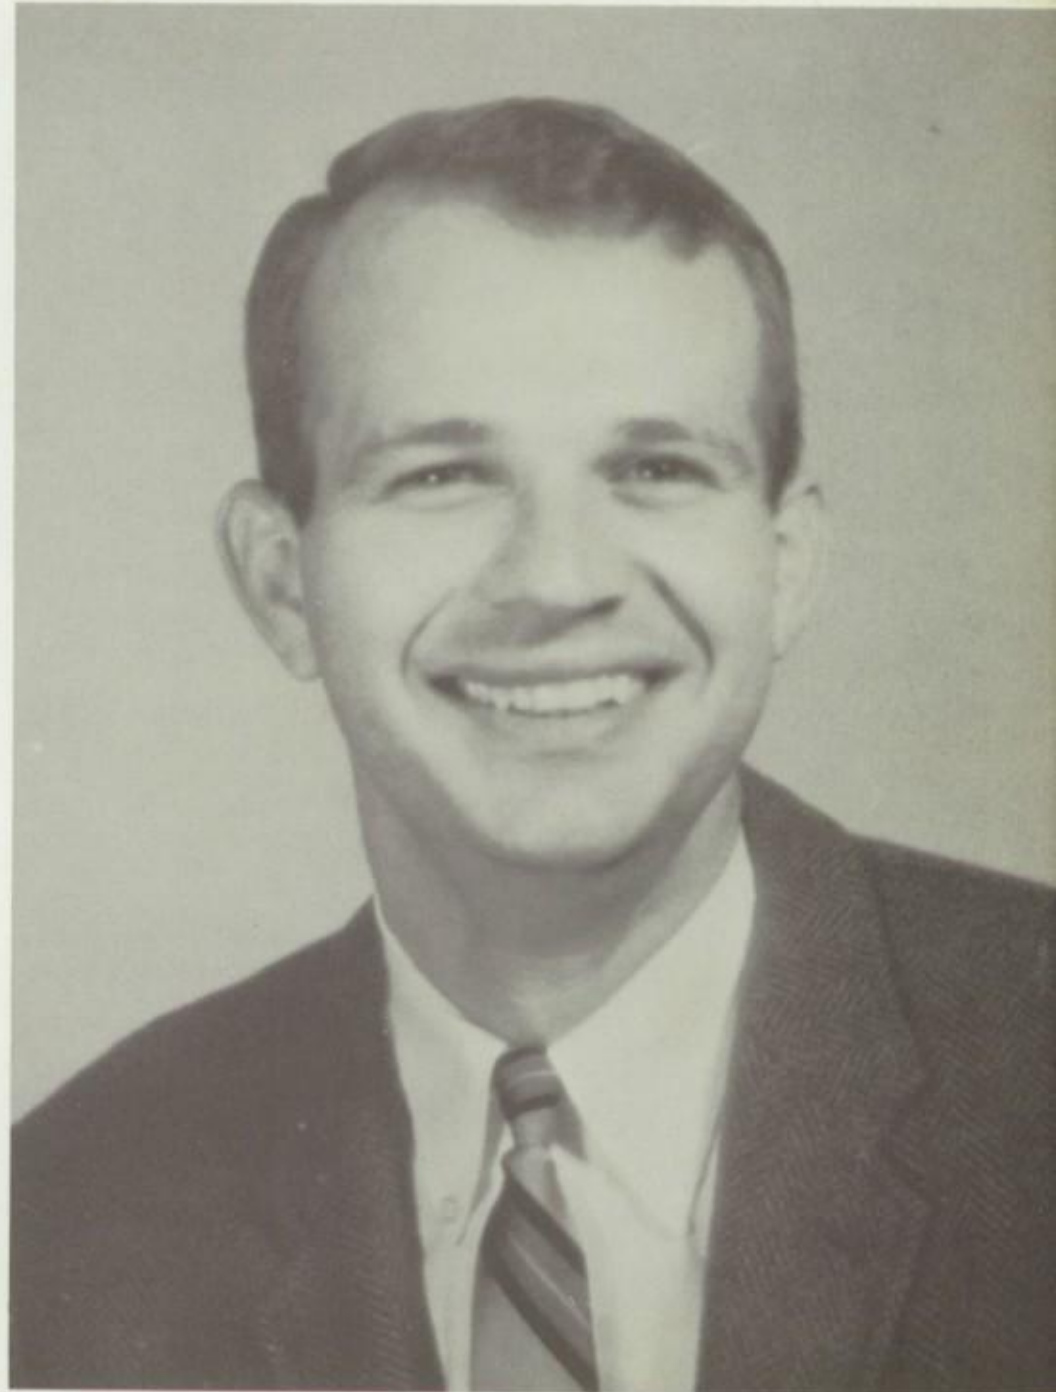

Enjoying a romp in the snow with two seniors, Mr. Mauldin displays his natural affinity to the youth with whom he works at East.

The Seniors of 1967 honor a man who has become a favorite of both his students and his colleagues. With courage, determination, and humor, he channels his energies towards those activities that work for the greater good of East Rowan and its students.

He is a young man whose vitality and zest for life, for people, and for the affairs of the world make him a teacher who challenges students to think and express their views on problems of the world.

For his untiring devotion and interest in students, we seniors proudly dedicate the 1967 EASTONIAN to our assistant principal, Mr. Phillip B. Mauldin.

Teachers attempt to develop in students a pride in their native speech. Through reading and the study of grammar, the "how" of the language is shown. In trying to use this "how" in his own speech and writing, each comes nearer the ideal of correct writing and more pleasing speech. Mrs. Petrea, chairman of the department, is featured on page 16.

Music and art classes offer cultural rewards

Mr. Robert E. Bouknight
Band and Chorus
B.S., Newberry

Working at his own rate, each art student attempts landscapes, still life, portraiture, posters, and clothing design. Media are water colors, ink, chalk, and finger-paint. Praise comes when originality and quality appear. Designed for the creative, art class teaches techniques and concepts plus understanding and appreciation of great works.

All fall band students work to create the smart appearance and rousing music of a Class A marching band. Comes winter; preparations begin for the North Carolina State Concert Band Contest. Superior rating is the goal. In chorus students learn to blend their voices harmoniously, to follow a director, and to find beauty in vocal music.

"It's a great, wide, wonderful world we live in . . ." Foreign language students find this to be true as they learn the language, culture, history, and social mores of lands distant in time and space. To become proficient in a new language requires understanding the grammatical structure of its sentences and learning a new vocabulary.

Teachers of mathematics stress logical reasoning and accuracy

DISTRIBUTION EDUCATION

Distributive education teaches techniques of salesmanship, how to market a product, and the economics of business. Students work on a job each afternoon in uptown businesses.

Etiquette of the business office and the skills required of a secretary, bookkeeper, file clerk, or stenographer are learned in commercial courses. Teachers stress accuracy.

Students bring honors to science department

Teachers strive to activate an interest in science among the students hoping that all will be better able to cope with life in the modern world. Four senior girls who won honors in the Westinghouse Talent Search bring attention to East's program in science. Advanced courses in biology, chemistry, and physics are especially challenging to both teachers and students.

"Dressing out" may arouse a groan here or there, but most students enjoy taking part in exercises and competitive games in the gym or on the field. Neither department—physical education nor athletic—can provide a daily period of exercise for all; therefore the aim is to establish in freshmen the basic concept of daily exercise for physical well-being.

Class room study involves a text and lectures to turn the student's attention to how his body systems function and to what he can do to keep all "A-OK."

History teachers link the past and present

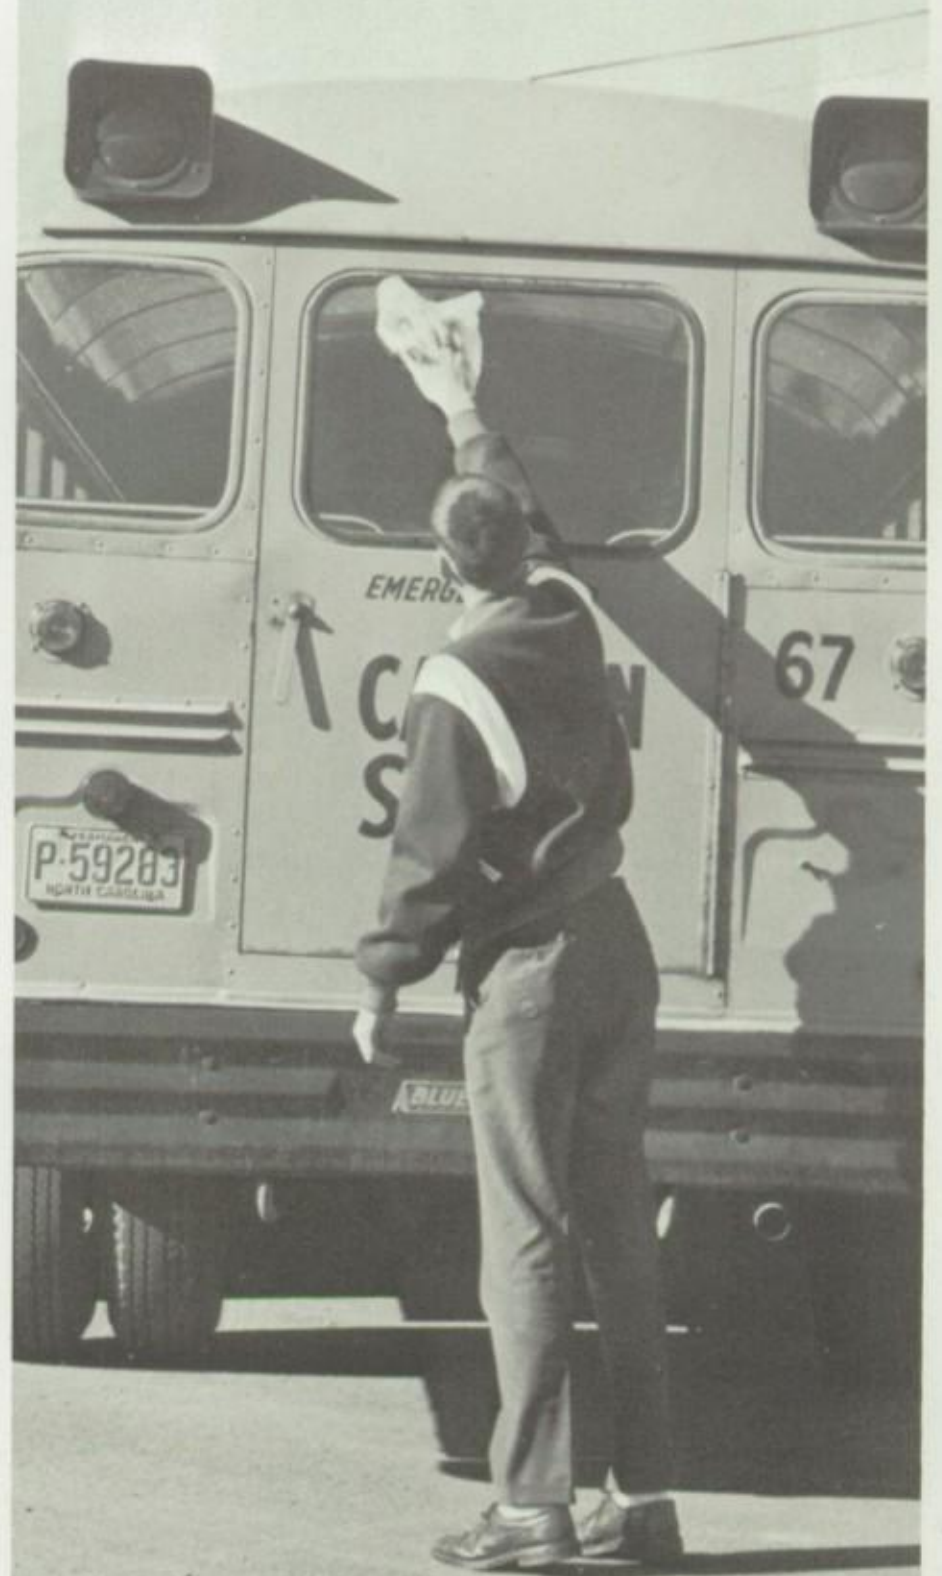

Great social and political movements of the past have a direct bearing on present social and political concepts affecting the lives of all people. World and American history show students the gradual development of . . . representative government . . . democracy . . . aversion to war. World Problems focuses on history in the making. Other social studies help point out the dependence on other people. "Know your world and your place in it as citizens of the United States," say the teachers of the department.

Activities

Student Council establishes a point system

Again, Student Council has an increased membership; committee chairmen are chosen at large from the student body by President Dean Lingle and advisor, Mr. Jerry Peck. A Senior Scholarship is established.

Projects are many and varied, each calling for careful planning and cooperative effort. First the upstairs teacher's lounge receives a face lifting from fresh paint, gay sofa cushions, drapes, flower arrangements, pictures, and colorful ashtrays. The teachers say it isn't decoration; it is resurrection.

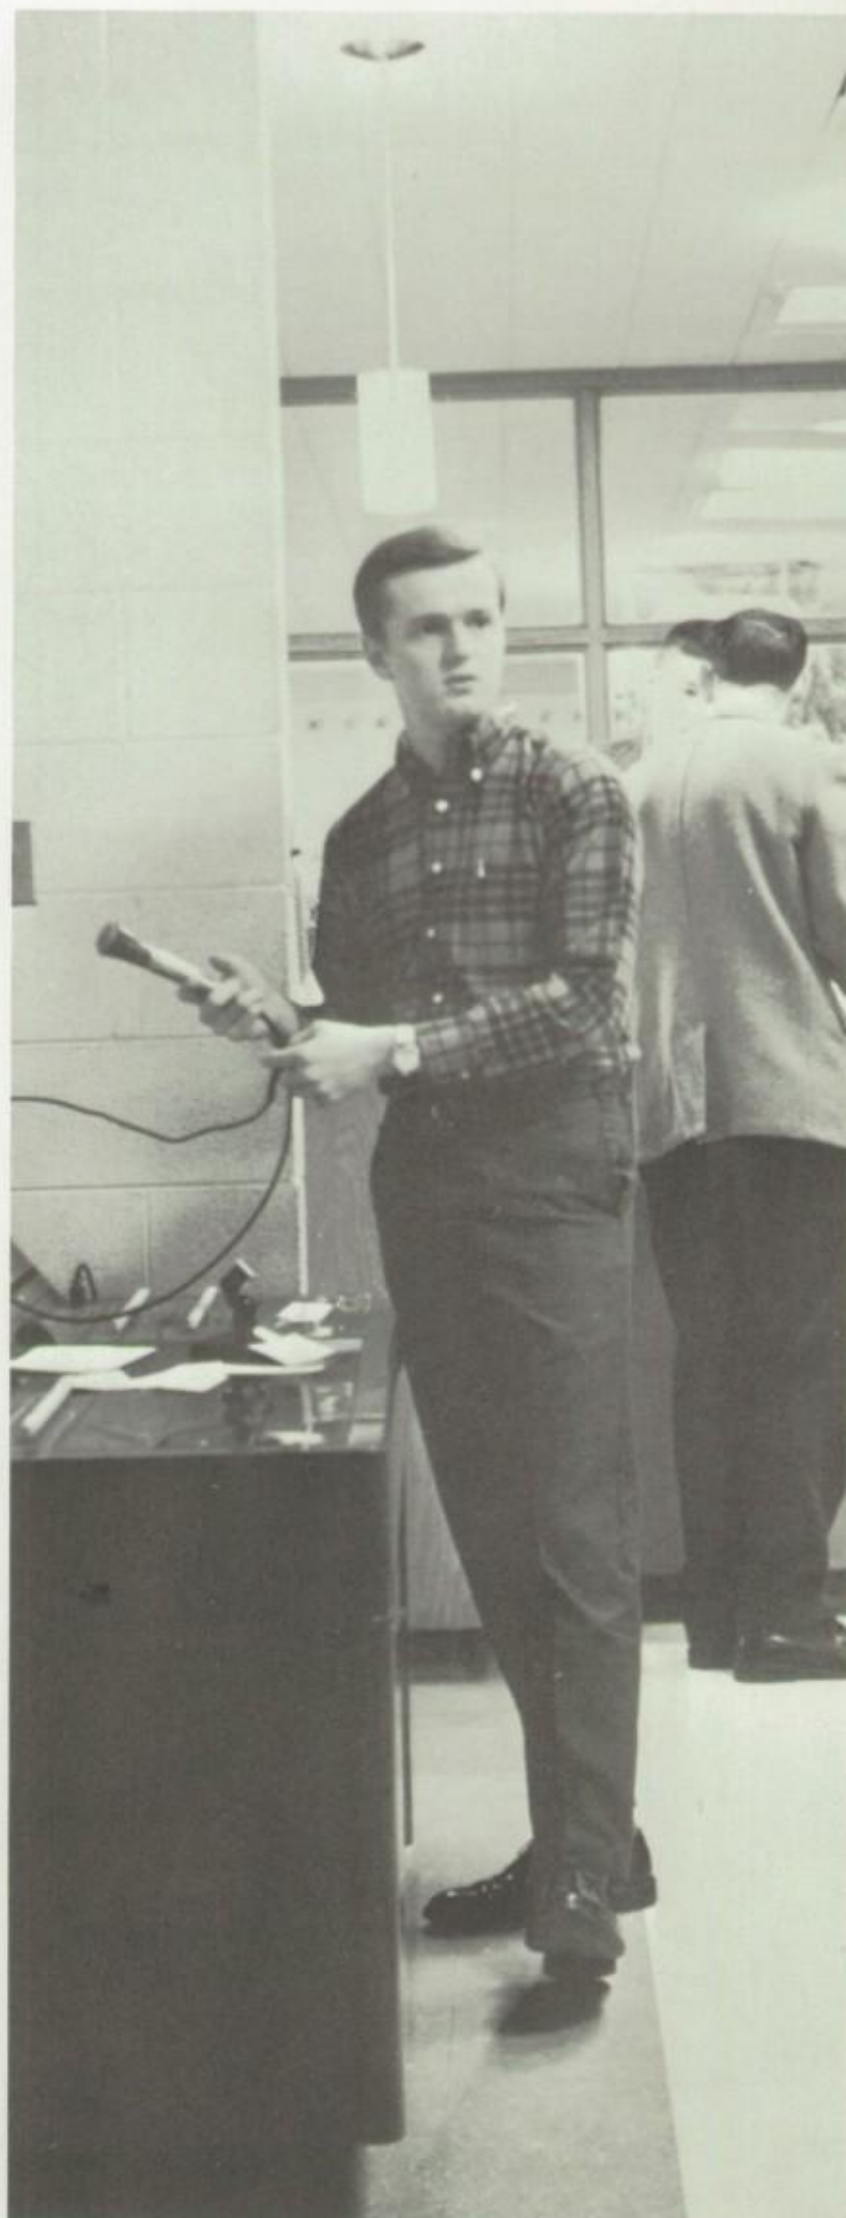

Pictures of three past council presidents are added to the activity area. Club emblems also color the area. A new STUDENT CALLER is published early in the year for the convenience of all.

White Christmas and the Teacher's Christmas Tea are traditional as are Dress-Up Day, Twirp Week, Bermuda Day and soc hops after home games.

Shelia Hoffner is East's Miss Merry Christmas in the Kannapolis pageant. Three council officers—Dean Lingle, Tommy Hamilton, and Susan Roberts, accompanied by Miss Marian Green—drive to Kinston to the Student Council Convention.

Dean Lingle, president; Bonnie Ervin, treasurer; Susan Roberts, secretary; and Tommy Hamilton, vice-president, dream up new projects.

Responsible for making daily announcements, Dean Lingle, student government president, waits for the homeroom bell.

'67 EASTONIAN staff

Laden with questions and ideas, Editor Darlene Fraley and School-life Editor Dorothy Fisher with Miss Tommie Clark, chaperone, visit the publishing plant at Cambridge, Maryland, on an all-expense-paid weekend trip.

Putting out an annual takes hours of detailed work. Numerous afternoons are spent drawing layouts, planning pictures to fit the layouts, and writing and typing copy. Making the enlargements fit the layouts has been made easier by the scaleograph. Despite the many hours sacrificed by staff and sponsor, Mrs. Ruth Gulledge, tension begins to mount as the deadline approaches. Frayed nerves, short tempers, a tear here and there are soon forgotten when proofs arrive, and the staff gets a preview of its work.

With the courage of a veteran, EASTONIAN EDITOR, Darlene Fraley, faces each new crisis with aplomb.

and Abby Freeman—strive to produce a better EASTONIAN. A time-consuming, eye-straining task is selecting pictures and negatives.

Deadline approaching, Senior Editor Abby Freeman checks and double checks seniors' statistics and pictures.

"Joseph Ciaranello," calls Darlene. "I've got him; I've got him," squeals Susan as the staff separates school pictures.

MUSTANG ROUND-UP editor also sports

Attending to one of his numerous duties as editor of the school paper, Jason Lesley staples articles for column three to the layout of the first page of Friday's edition.

Sitting behind the boss, Bobby Hogsed, assistant editor, checks sports copy.

Responsible for mimeographing, Belinda Holshouser, Cathy Yost, and Jan Herring head for room 2 to run off a page of the paper.

Smiling as she works, art editor Linda Corn cuts a headline on stencil using mimeoscope, letter guides, and stylus.

writer for POST

Covering all school activities, the MUSTANG ROUND-UP gets into the hands of all students 34 times a year. Fourteen seniors and juniors compose the paper staff and journalism class with Mrs. Ruth Gullledge, advisor.

Constantly challenged by a weekly deadline, Editor Jason Lesley is justified if he paces the floor in vexation when a headline appears over the wrong story on a typed stencil. But by fifth period Thursdays, he is able to say with relief, "We did it. It's put to bed." Then he begins next week's paper.

Nelda Trexler and Belinda Bernhardt are two of four stencil typists, all of whom spend hours weekly on the paper.

Another Beta Club project is realized as Eric Sifford smooths the final touches on the emblem to be hung in the activity area.

Tensions of tapping Beta members mount before the exciting moment and relax at the tea.

By tapping 25 new members, Beta Club begins a year of recognizing and honoring those students who achieve above average grades. Beta Club teas honor new members and their parents, freshmen who make the first six-weeks' Honor Roll, and students whose names appear on the Semester Honor Roll.

Members work to compile a list of study habits which have proved effective for them. These are to be presented to first-year high school students in the future. A much-needed coat rack to be used during soc hops is Beta's service project for the whole school. Members and their sponsor, Mrs. Bettie Lyerly, officiate at Awards Day.

National FHA WEEK

Projects galore keep Future Homemakers active. Their fair booth graces both Rowan County and Farmers' Fall fairs, winning blue ribbons. Turkeys of fruit and apples are made for the Children's Ward at Thanksgiving. For Christmas, the V.A. Hospital gets wreaths from East Rowan. The girls make Christmas presents and take them to old folks in the local nursing homes when they go caroling. Ditty bags are packed with gifts for boys in Viet Nam and sent by Red Cross.

During National FHA Week, the girls go to church together, honor East's teachers with rose buds, and wear club colors and ribbons to school. Socials include a picnic at City Lake and a Mother-Daughter reception. Delegates attend State Convention with the advisors, Mrs. Dorothy Felts and Mrs. Sarah O'Brien.

Sixty-five Latin II and III students gain

Each Latin class has an organized club with officers. Meetings are held during class period once a month. Sixty-five Latin II and III students are also members of Junior Classical League, a national organization with 100,000 members encouraging the study of Latin. Students become members for life after affiliation with Junior Classical League, and they may be active in the league during the college years.

Programs of the club meetings provide cultural background of the language they study and the history and literature of Rome. Mrs. Thayer Puckett, sponsor, and members enjoy the Latin Banquet held in the spring. All attend in costume.

Interest in girls' athletics soars in GAA

With the gym open to GAA during club periods this year, the girls enjoy basketball or volleyball.

President Sharon Hysinger, Program Chairman Sadie Barger, Vice-president Shelia Hoffner, and Secretary-treasurer Barbara Buie are leaders in GAA.

GAA, sponsored by Miss Myrtle Lentz, has as its main purpose to keep alive girls' athletics. Membership's rising from 16 in 1966 to 85 in 1967 indicates renewed interest. GAA's service to the whole school is sponsoring basketball intramurals in the early spring.

For a club this size, the annual staff finds difficulty in getting all the names on the page with any room left for pictures; therefore individual names of the girls in the group of GAA's below is omitted.

Defensive end Jason Lesley turns his attention momentarily away from the fast pace set by the Mustangs.

Defensive back Mike Goodman prepares to shed his parka and return to the field in his cornerback position.

With a mighty boot sailing the ball downfield, Jack Bost sets the game in motion.

East's varsity football team enjoys its best season since joining the North Piedmont Conference. A 6-3-1 record earns the Mustangs second place in league standing. With a 25-8 trouncing of Albermarle, the horses are off and running. After a point loss to South Rowan and a scoreless tie with Davie County, East bounces back with a 26-6 victory over Monroe.

Then powerhouse Thomasville defeats East by two touchdowns. Back to back wins over South Iredell and West Rowan brighten prospects, but Mooresville takes the next tilt and the championship. The boys close the season with wins over North Rowan, 14-6, and North Stanley, 28-19.

Five East Rowan footballers win individual honors for their outstanding efforts this season. Selections for the All-County unit include David Weaver, Dan Beaver, and Donny Yost. Beaver and Jack Bost win the coaches' choice as All-Conference players. SALISBURY POST'S selections for Rowan County Players of the Week tap Yost, Weaver, and Steve Hannah and place them on its All-Star team.

For the second consecutive year, head coach and athletic director, Mr. Larry Wagner, receives Rowan County Coach of the Year award.

Head Coach Larry Wagner and Assistant Coach Andre Correll watch intently as their football squad works its way to another victory.

Gentle personality adorned with good looks has gained Wanda a lasting honor.

Homecoming royalty smile as they dance at the soc-hop over which they reign.

Homecoming King David Weaver receives recognition for his gridiron achievements.

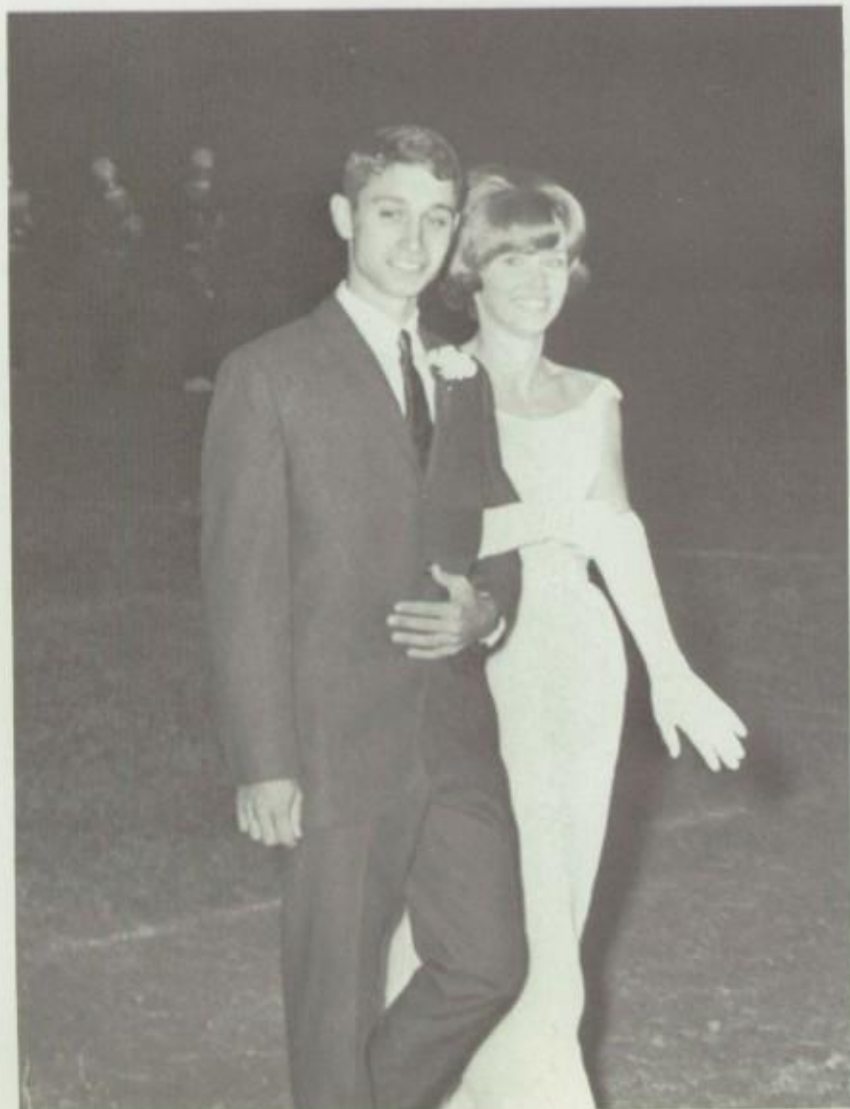

Her Grace, His Majesty reign at Homecoming

Rose in hand, attractive Cindy Miller, sophomore attendant is escorted onto the field by Myron Kesler.

After paying homage to the queen, Shelia Hoffner adjusts her glove as Barry Reep leads the popular junior to a waiting car.

Happiness is a radiant senior attendant, Darlene Fraley, and escort, Dean Lingle as they exit in a Mustang convertible.

Participating in the gala occasion, vivacious Vickie Reep, freshman, and her escort, Gary Russell, make a solemn entrance.

Cheerleaders are the key to school spirit

Co-chief cheerleaders, Dorothy Fisher and Susan Roberts, put up the school spirit letters before the West Rowan game.

"What cheer do you think we should do next?" questions Dorothy Fisher as Dan Beaver reluctantly plans his speech for the pep rally.

Inspiring the Mustangs through a winning football season, Varsity cheerleaders work to boost school spirit among students and other East supporters. Selling ribbons, planning pep rallies, displaying slogans, and co-sponsoring Homecoming are various tasks which keep the cheerleaders busy. New this year are white plywood letters which the cheerleaders constructed to add a finishing touch to the football stadium.

Doing her bit for East Rowan's Mustangs at the bonfire, Senior Darlene Fraley asks, "Have you got the spirit?"

While busily pinning and assorting ribbons, squad members exchange juicy bits of gossip to lighten their task.

"Dick Leonard, he's our man. If he can't do it, Weaver can." Such is the rousing salute paid to senior football players at the last home game.

Cheerleading brings fun, hard work, glory

spend many extra hours during the summer and after school practicing cheers, chants, and formations.

Seemingly unnoticed as she ducks behind a bench, senior Belinda Bernhardt pauses to take pictures of the Homecoming Court.

"We wanna touchdown!" shout the cheerleaders as the Mustangs march toward another win.

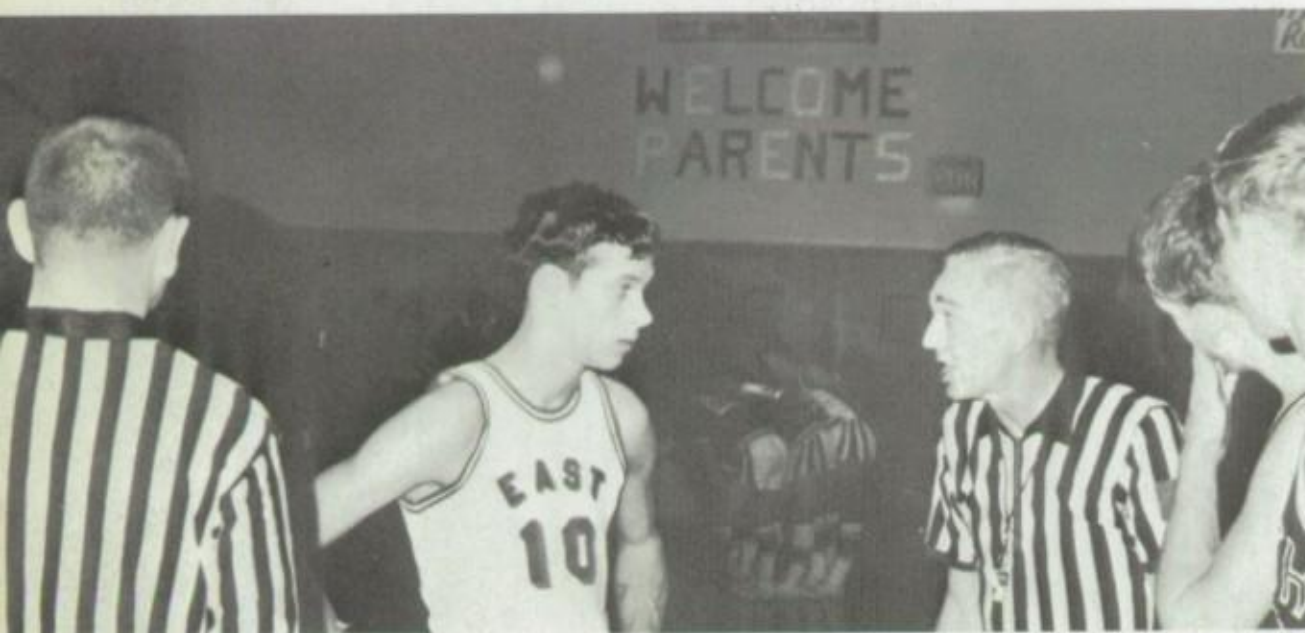

Mustangs are coming on strong under new

From his forward position, Gary Graham arches his patented set shot toward the hoop.

Guard Donny Yost, acting as the team's co-captain, listens as the referee explains some of the ground rules of the game.

"That's my rebound," says center Gary Safr-it, as he scraps with a South player for the loose ball in an attempt to make it really his.

coach, Mr. Pat Hedrick

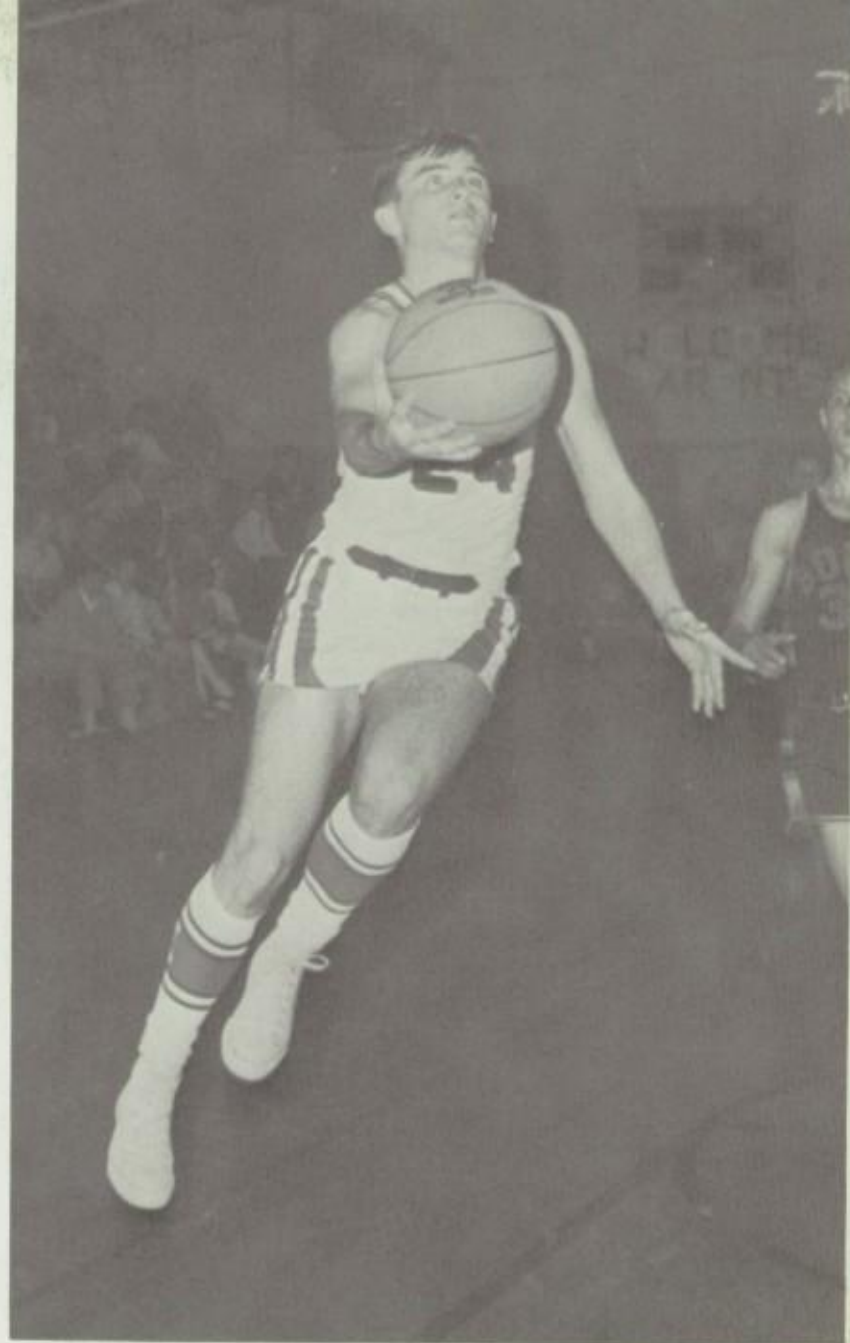

Mike Sealey, towering forward, leaps high into the air to bring down a one-handed rebound.

During pre-game warm-ups, Bobby Hogsed fires away with a twenty-foot jump shot, which he, by the way, hit.

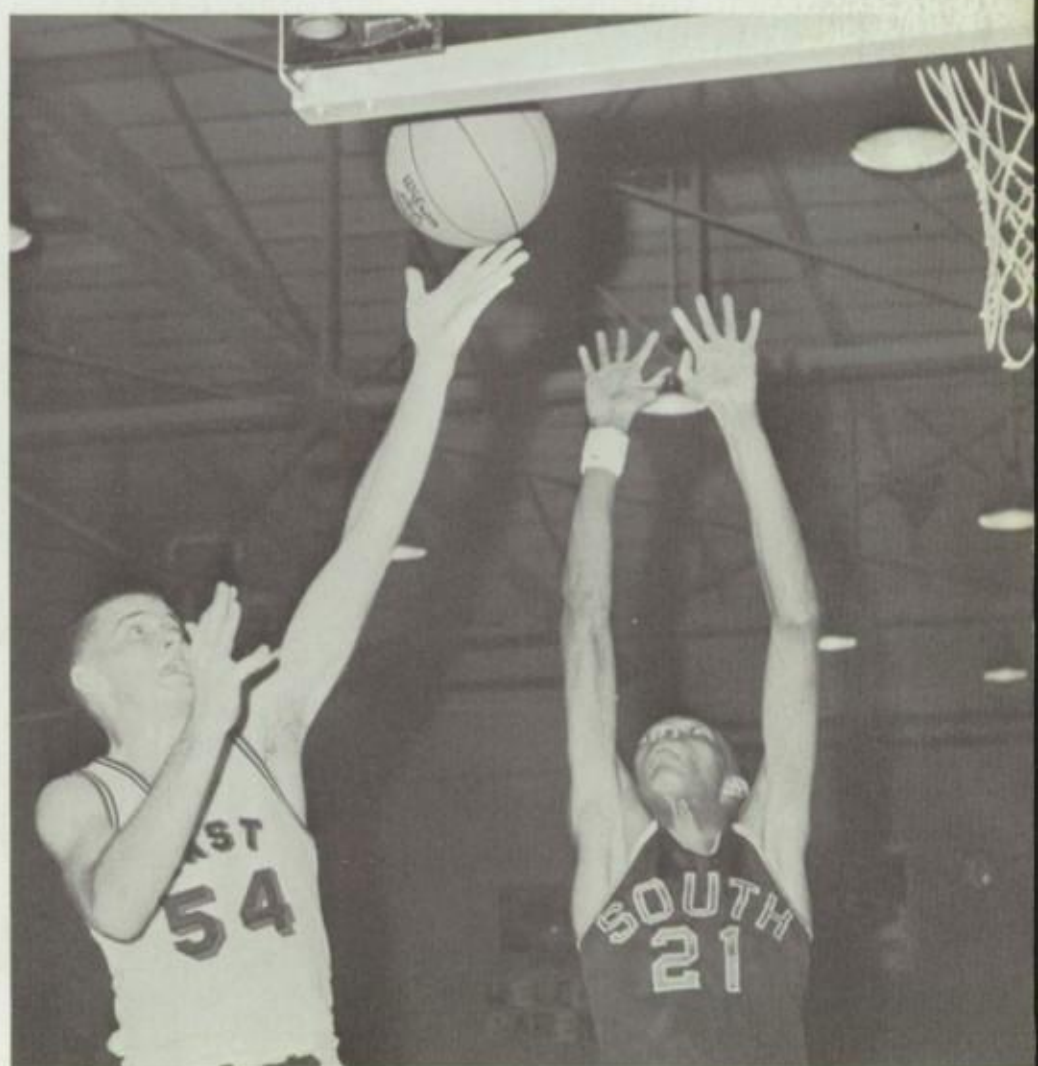

After a slow start, the Mustangs are kicking up some dust. At the time of publication, East Rowan is beginning to resume their role as "Giant-Killers."

This season is seeing all players capable of hitting double figures. Dan Beaver, last year's All-Conference choice, is the top point maker with a 12 point average. Tim Smith follows closely.

Flying through the air with the greatest of ease, Dan Beaver eyes the bucket as he attempts a lay up.

Tim Smith, helping control the boards for East, comes through with another two-pointer seconds before the buzzer sounds.

Coach and Fillies are

Thelma Flowe fights in an effort to steal the ball away from her Rebel opponent in the opening minutes of play.

Stationary guard Judy Cozart reacts to the ball as it is moved to the other side of the court.

Fingertips extended, Doris Kluttz keeps her eyes glued on the basket as she shoots from the free throw line.

in process of rebuilding; future looks bright

Miss Myrtle Lentz's crew has obtained profitable playing from her co-captains Sharon Hysinger and Carol Heilig. Heilig leads East in scoring and ranks third in the county. Consistently good playing from Judy Cozart, Thelma Flowe, Tana Trexler and Barbara Buie brings smiles to Coach Lentz. Though a losing season, the girls have showed fine spirit.

Co-captain Sharon Hysinger waits in tense anticipation for the on-coming rebound.

Miss Myrtle Lentz, proudly wearing her homecoming corsage, talks over team plans during a time out.

After grabbing a rebound, guard Tana Trexler prepares to move the ball downcourt toward an East forward.

Sitting on their "milking" stools, cheerleaders make final plans for the first basketball Homecoming with Miss Myrtle Lentz, sponsor.

Shelia Hoffner, Terry Leonard, Cindy Miller, and Debbie Harwood begin the hand-clapping cheer "F-I-G-H-T," and the fans join in,

Co-chief Susan Roberts, in low but distinctive tones, leads in "When you're up, you're up."

Varsity Cheerleaders "troop" East's colors

As the pep rally ends, Melinda McBride turns to answer a question.

Mascots Paula Fisher and Beth Roberts enjoy assisting the "big" girls in supporting the team.

The ball in East territory, Billie Jo Yost urges, "Go for a basket!"

Cheerleaders have personality, enthusiasm, wit

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders—Renee Thomas, Chief Cathy Hoffer, Debbie Arey, Peggy Marshall, Vickie Reep, and Priscilla Kirchin—cheer for freshmen and junior varsity games in both football and basketball. These girls are interning; and if they make the grade, they may be elected varsity cheerleaders.

She is not deformed; she is simply doing one of the unsolicited tasks cheerleaders are called on to perform—to pick up trash from the court.

Jayvee girls do the spread eagle in jubilation as Bambi Bingham racks up two more.

During time out in the girls game, the pepsters lead with, "We're out to fight."

Wrestlers win five, lose nine by February 20

Dolan Hubbard obtains a secure hold on his opponent in his attempt to throw and pin him down on the mat.

Doug Trexler, co-captain and 148 pound mainstay, paces East Rowan wrestlers with an undefeated record, 15-0-2.

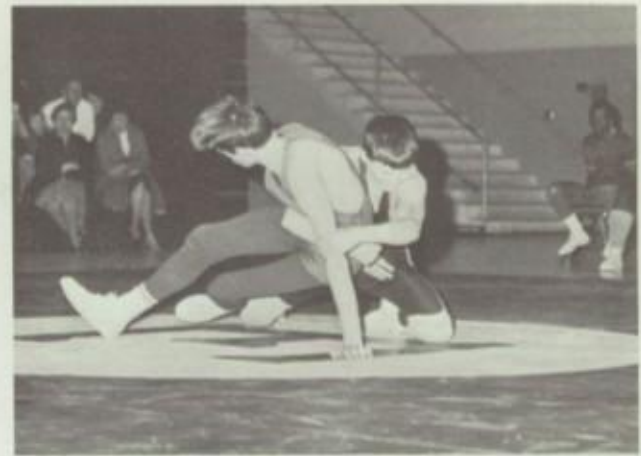

Mustang grapplers place fifth in a ten-team tournament at Wadesboro in February. East Rowan put two individual winners, Trexler and Charles Heilig, into the limelight.

Sending another wrestler home in defeat, Doug Trexler takes top position and applies pressure to this Asheboro grappler.

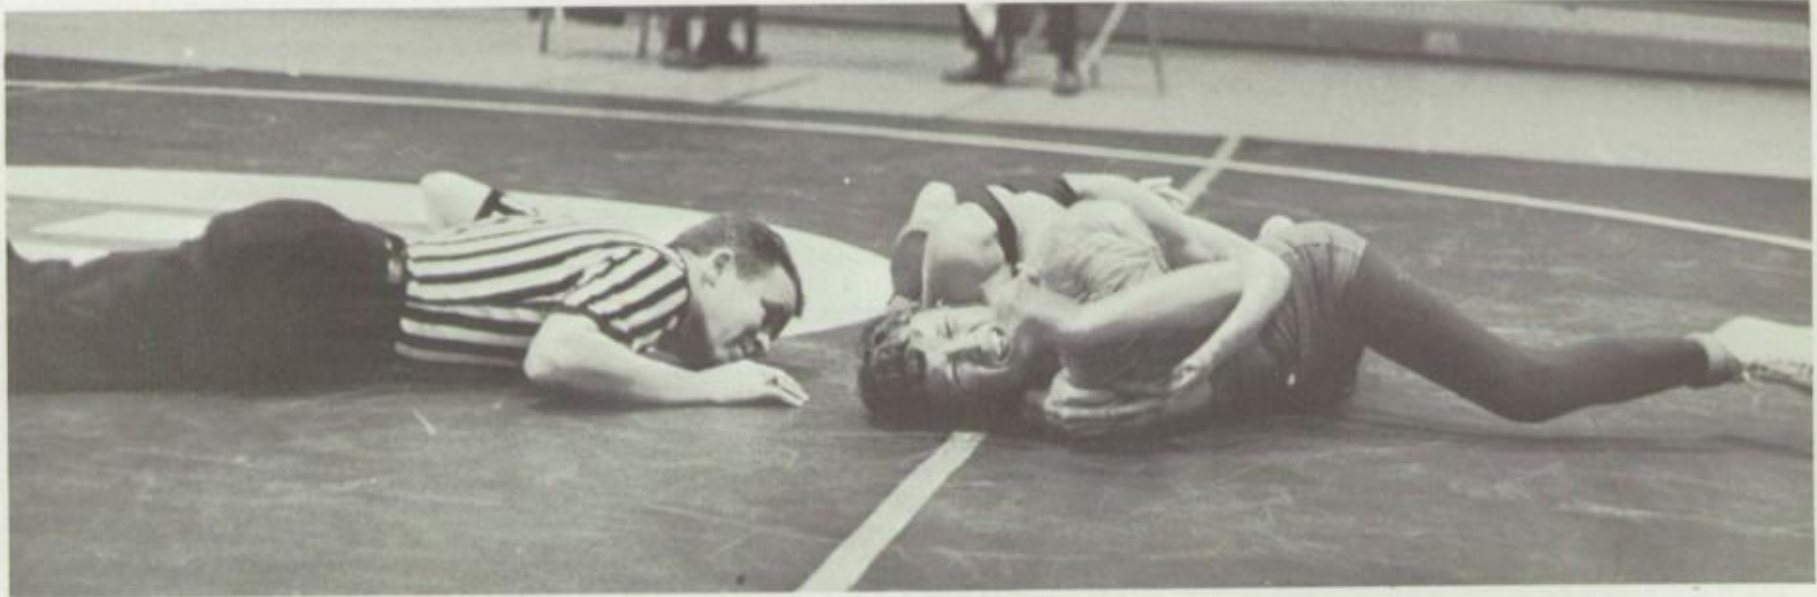

Watching a teammate perform in the preliminaries, Mustang wrestlers calmly remain on the bench as they await their turn to show their stuff on the mat.

While his man has a tight-waist hold on him, Jim Canup tries to escape his grasp.

While the referee looks on to see if the wrestler is pinned, East's ninety-eight-pound sparkplug, Monty Edwards, freshman, struggles in vain to get his shoulders off the mat and free himself of an opponent.

gles in vain to get his shoulders off the mat and free himself of an opponent.

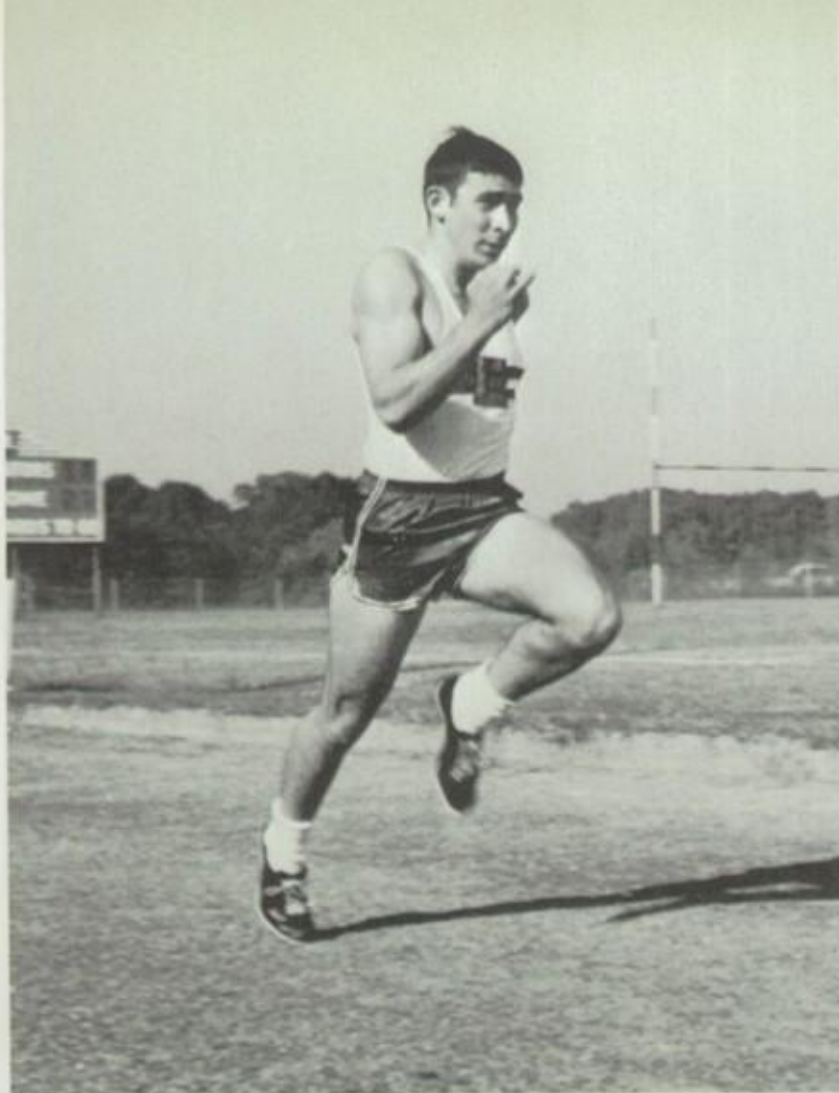

Trexler leading matmen with 15-0-2 record

Chewing on his lower lip, Coach Jim Barringer grimaces as a wrestler lets his man pin him.

Using his speed and excellent form to an advantage over his opponent, Ronnie Bean helps his team gain points in their victory over Asheboro.

Chip Earnhardt, who took second place in the 440 at the '66 association meet, strives to make it first place this year.

Jack Bost, a track and field competitor for 4 years, eyes the shot as he follows through on his heave.

Enthusiasm for Track and Field is growing as Versatile Donny Yost, who won honors in two jumps and the relays at last year's bi-conference meet, attempts a new mark.

East tracksters, who sent six heralded members to the association meet in Shelby, record one of their finest seasons. Chip Earnhardt cops a second place in the 440 dash; John Fisher grabs a third in the 880. Vaughn Arey places fourth in the high hurdles in his first season of running the high. East's mile relay team take a third place.

Clearing the hurdle, Dick Leonard, who upped East's points in pole vaulting and relays last year, plans more of the same.

Even before the trees bud in the late winter, the tracksters begin building their stamina for distance running—on the track, cross country to St. Luke's, and even in the halls and gym on rainy days.

Baseball team of 1966 are Piedmont champs

Returning varsity players are Bill Ketchie, Charles Cauble, Frank Harper, Gary Earnhardt, Tony Yarborough, on first row, and

East Rowan's defending Piedmont champions will be gunning for the fourth title in six years this season under new head coach, Coach Robert Klutz who follows Mr. Burl Morris.

The Mustangs, who earned a 15.3 over-all record last spring, have 12 returning lettermen. Donnie Smith, All-Conference second baseman, heads the list of returnees. Gary Earnhardt and Alan Basinger, both of whom won All-County honors, will bolster the Mustang's attack.

Protecting the crown and striving to gain the WNCSSAA championship are 1967 objectives.

With spikes flying high, Gary Earnhardt scores the initial run of the Piedmont championship game played at Newman Park.

Catcher Mike Reavis slashes out a line single through the middle in the Mustang's drive to win a third championship for East.

Mustangs and new coach seek to retain crown

Looking back on the close play at third, Bobby Lowman crosses home plate with another run for East.

East's ace moundsman and co-captain, Phillip Robbins, is bowled over by an Asheboro runner in a close play at home.

A jubilant Phil Robbins shares with Coach Morris and his wife the joyous aftermath of the defeat of Asheboro which won for the Mustangs the Piedmont Championship, final score 5-4.

Golf is East's newest sport

Junior Dean Harwood studies the ball before making his approach shot.

The ball is blasted out of the sand trap by Junior Tony Fleming.

Golf, East Rowan's newest sport begun 3 years ago, is coached by Mr. Jim Barringer. Home matches are played on Brookdale Golf Course.

The six scheduled matches are with North Stanly, South Stanly, and Mooresville. East's lone win comes over S. Stanly with a score of 6-3. Randy Bingham, the squad's standout of the season, scores a 37. Dean Harwood and Bill Leazer also win.

Sophomore Randy Benson, in perfect position for a chip shot.

Junior Steve Misenheimer follows through after teeing off.

J.V. FOOTBALL

The sidelined defense squad gives the game its all as the offense drives for yardage in the East-North Stanly tilt. East overpowers the Comets scoring 7 touchdowns and 5 extra points. Jackie Sloop, Mike Mainess, Vernon Bernhardt, and John Hawkins score the touchdowns. Mr. Pat Hedrick is Jayvee coach.

J.V. BASKETBALL

FROSH BASKETBALL

Billy Cruise, Joe Sides, Dennis Anthony and their teammates board the bus to go to North Stanly for the game of the afternoon. Coach Robert Kluttz and his team are posting a good record in '67.

Class Favorites 1967

Showing their approval for two well-rounded students, the Class of '67 elects Dorothy Fisher and Dean Lingle as Class Favorites.

Seniors cast secret ballots for superlatives and class favorites. The 22 seniors who won the election and the honors are featured on the following pages.

Superlatives

MOST ATHLETIC

Attaining height in athletic achievements. Carol Heilig and Donnie Yost earn glory for themselves and their school.

MOST TALENTED

Excelling in the fine arts, Carol Bruce and Johnny Hess display one of their many talents.

FRIENDLIEST

Smiles are the constant companions of both Abby Freeman and Gary Safrit as they greet their fellow classmates.

Seniors

The blazing fire enhances the good looks of Freida Fox and Dan Beaver. These well-groomed Eastonians appear most attractive to their fellow classmates.

MOST ATTRACTIVE

Up to their usual tricks are senior class clowns, Sharon Hysinger and Sammy Saxon. Their flashes of wit brighten up any school day.

WITTIEST

MOST DEPENDABLE

Adaptable to any situation, Dorothy Fisher and David Weaver find swinging great fun.

MOST VERSATILE

who rank Superlative are considered peerless

Whether it's adding a log or whatever, Nelda Trexler and Jason Lesley can do it.

To Susan Roberts and Bobby Hogsed nothing—but nothing—is too much, too hard, too long if it's for East Rowan and the Mustangs.

MOST SCHOOL SPIRITED

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

With goals set high, Helena Ridenhour and Dean Lingle begin their long climb to a successful future.

MOST INTELLECTUAL

"Lighting the lamp of wisdom" is the motto of Eric Sifford and Jo Ann Holshouser.
